

CFUW-Nepean Scholarship Trust

2015-2016

What is the CFUW-Nepean Scholarship Trust?

The Canadian Federation of University Women-Nepean Scholarship Trust was established in 1996 by members of CFUW-Nepean. The trust encourages and supports Higher education by establishing, funding and disbursing scholarships, bursaries and awards. The Trust is a registered charitable organization, operating under Revenue Canada rules for such organizations, and is managed by a five-member Board of Trustees composed of CFUW-Nepean Club members.

Who receives the money?

The Trust has directed its disbursements to Algonquin College's School of Health Sciences through the College's Foundation. Since the Fall of 2006 donations totalling $18,300 have been awarded to nineteen deserving students in the Nursing Program.

Consider: As the cost of post-graduate education continues to increase, a CFUW-Nepean Scholarship can give students a helping hand in meeting their education costs and achieving their goals.

How does the Trust raise money?

The Trust raises revenues four ways:

- Donations and in memorium donations for which charitable donation receipts are provided; Registered Charity no. 893039248 RR0001 Canada Revenue Agency www.cra.gc.ca/charities
- Fundraising events undertaken by CFUW-Nepean club members on behalf of the Scholarship Trust; first event this year will be a "Casseroles, Cards and Silent Auction" on Thursday, October 22nd, 2015;
- Donations to the Trust from CFUW-Nepean Club revenues, as voted on from time to time by the Club's membership; and
- Interest from CFUW-Nepean Scholarship Trust bank investments.
